Stuph & Thangs

SOM[illegible]PURTS REAGAN SHOULD LISTEN TO . . .

While there has been more than a plenty of prognostication on th' part of those folks we smilingly refer to as Economists about The Situation fer too long a time, it does appear that President Reagan is finally gittin' some hard facks from some folks with th' experience and background to make what they say very important. Th' other day fellers like former secretaries of Treasury like Michael Blumenthal, William Simon, John Connally, Henry Fowler and Douglas Dillon got their ideas off their chests and warned that dalliance was gittin' dangerous and it was time Reagan took th' prunin' knife to that overweight Defense Budgit and took some other solid steps and quit playin' Chicken with th' likes of Tip O'Neill, etc.

Pure[illegible] Increases Support Of Beef Promotion

Starting July 1, the beef seedstock industry will implement a dynamic new program to help finance beef promotion and consumer relations activities.

The program, which was approved at a meeting of breed association leaders May 16, involves a $1.00 per head assessment on registration transfers which will be invested in the consumer-oriented programs of the Beef Industry Council of the Meat Board and the National Cattlemen's Association.

While the individual breed associations will determine how their funds will be divided between the two organizations, of the total amount 70 percent will go to the Meat Board and 30 percent to NCA.

The program will work like this:

When a purebred producer requests a transfer, the breed association will collect $1.00 per head in addition to the transfer fee. The $1.00 will be sent by the breed association to the Meat Board, which will then remit the designated amount to NCA. The registered breeder can request a refund of his assessment from the breed association.

The funds will be used to finance the beef promotion, education, research and information programs of the Meat Board (including the new national advertising campaign built around the theme "Somehow, nothing satisfies like beef"), as well as special consumer relations projects of the NCA. The total amount collected is expected to be near $500,000 per year.

"The beef breed associations strongly believe in the need for increased consumer promotion programs," said Greg Martin, president of the U.S. Beef Breeds Council.

"In starting this program, we're joining the many state beef councils and other industry groups that have significantly increased their beef checkoff rates in the past two years. While many registered breeders are taking part in these state checkoffs, this new program will ensure maximum participation from the beef seedstock industry."

The program is a united effort by virtually all beef breed organizations, spearheaded by the U.S. Beef Breeds Council, which is composed of representatives of the following associations: American Angus Assn., American Brahman Breeders Assn., American Hereford Assn., American International Charolais Assn., American Maine Anjou Assn., American Polled Hereford Assn., American Shorthorn Assn., American Simmental Assn., Beefmaster Breeders Universal, International Brangus Breeders Assn., North American Limousin Foun., Red Angus Assn. of America, Santa Gertrudis Breeders Intl., and the Texas Longhorn Breeders Assn. of America.

Storable Commodities Protection Needed

Washington, — Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller joined with other state presidents and National Farmers Union leaders in calling for protection for producers in the case of elevator bankruptcies. The farm leaders requested Congress to enact legislation which will prevent economic hardship and loss for producers who have commodities stored in facilities which declare bankruptcy.

"Bankruptcy cases can be tied up for long periods of time in court. Under current law, producers who have stored their commodity have no recourse other than to wait on a court decision while they may have their entire harvest, which is their annual income, tied up in a bankruptcy," Moeller stated.

The Farmers Union plan calls for the following steps to be implemented: Innocent party claims should be settled quickly in an elevator bankruptcy; Priority should be given to farmers who have sold grain for cash but have not been paid; and a warehouse receipt should be evidence of ownership of grain.

The plan also calls for the establishment of a federal storable commodities insurance corporation which will guarantee up to $150,000 protection for each farmer who has stored, delivered or contracted his

Waxahachie Commission Invites Consignments To June 9 Sale

Waxahachie, Texas — Glenn Stephenson, progressive owner-manager, reports that the Waxahachie Livestock Commission Co. located at Red Oak about nine miles north of Waxahachie, is having a strong demand for cow and calf pairs, springing cows, replacement heifers and breeding bulls. The next special sale will be at 7 P.M., Wednesday, June 9.

"The cattle cycle is in the upswing as herds are being rebuilt following a long period of sell-off that was brought about several years ago by an over supply. That sell-off depressed prices to unprofitable levels, but now that numbers are down and herds are being rebuilt, prices are again reaching, or approaching, profitable levels," Stephenson said.

"We believe now is a good time to consider either selling or buying cattle," he added.

TEXAS BRANGUS

Brangus—The Money-Making Mama

The Brangus female isn't called America's Number One Brood Cow for nothing! No other breed surpasses Brangus in all the money-making maternal traits. Brangus cows excel in fertility, ease of calving, milk production, and growth rate. That means more total pounds of calf produced annually per cow, and more profit for you. And if the Brangus female is that good, so is the Brangus bull. As a commercial producer, you'll increase the weaning weights of your steer calves and find that your top heifers make replacements that are superior to their mothers in every way.

If you could use more money-making mamas in your herd, it's time you switched to Bran

KLA President Says Farm Machinery Exemption Will Help

"Extremely pleased," is how Harlan Oltjen, President of the Kansas Livestock Association, reacted to Governor Carlin's signature of legislation which exempts farm machinery from the personal property tax effective January 1, 1983. "The enactment of this new law is the most significant breakthrough in many years towards solving one of the major agricultural tax problems," Oltjen said.

The KLA President said the legislature and the Governor had taken significant action to help the state's number one industry at a time when farmers and ranchers are under severe economic stress.

Although Oltjen expressed disappointment that a livestock exemption was not included, he said, "I encourage the 1983 Kansas legislature to examine the livestock tax issue and take action to also exempt livestock from the personal property tax."

Texas Angus Breeder Receives BIF Award

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Powers of Perryton, Texas, were presented the 1982 Pioneer Award by the Beef Improvement Federation at its annual meeting in Rapid City, South Dakota, recently.

Percy and his wife, Lois, started their Angus herd in 1937 with two cows and their heifer calves. Never having more than 80 Angus cows at any one time, his Skyland Farms has been the source for many popular Angus bloodlines of today.

In 1950, Powers got involved with the PanTech Test Station, a bull evaluation center northeast of Amarillo. That first year there were 20 pens of calves representing 20 different sires from various breeders.

"Interest was growing," Powers says, "at the time to identify the high gaining cattle, and PRI (performance registry international) was organized with the purpose of finding those cattle."

Performance Registry International was the forerunner of such breed programs as the Angus AHIR Performance Program and the Herefords TPR Program.

On April 10, 1849, Walter Hunt of New York City received a patent for his invention of the safety pin.

A. F. Flint Wins BIF Seedstock Producer Honors

A. F. "Frankie" Flint, a rancher and registered Angus cattle breeder from Bard, New Mexico, has been named seedstock producer of the year by the Beef Improvement Federation (BIF). The award was presented to Flint, a pioneer in performance testing of beef cattle, during the recent BIF convention in Rapid City, South Dakota.

Flint started keeping beef cattle performance records, with individual cow identification, on his commercial herd in 1935. There were no protable scales in those days so Flint estimated calf weaning weights in order to weed out "loafer cows" and select the most productive replacement heifers.

Later the New Mexico rancher joined PRI (Performance Records International) and bred a number of "Certified Meat Sires." In 1971 he began keeping his records on the Angus Herd Improvement Records program of the American Angus Association. Since National Angus Sire Evaluation was introduced he has tested 17 bulls of his own breeding in the program and owned four other bulls that were tested in National Sire Evaluation.

"Waxahachie Livestock Commission Co. needs consignments for its regular special cow sales at 7 p.m. the nights of the second Wednesday each month — sales held at night so the working cattleman will have a chance to attend and buy and sell," Stephenson said.

Stephenson said the cattle, either small or large consignments, will be sold in order of consignment, but that consignments should be made as early as possible so that the cattle can be properly advertised. Consignments for the June 9 sale are now being taken.

To make consignments, or for sale information, contact Waxahachie Livestock Commission Co., Glenn Stephenson, owner and manager, phones 214/576-3304 office, 214/299-5332 Metro, or 214/576-3680 at home; or George Williams, auctioneer, 817/665-4087 day or night.

Japanese Back Down . . . A Little

After negotiations with Japan's Livestock Industry Promotion Corp., LIPC, the United States Meat Export Federation announced that LIPC has agreed to eliminate a one year probation period for U.S. packers and processors who want to export beef to Japan. The agreement was negotiated by Meat Export Federation president Bud Middaugh. The regulation is one of many that make it difficult to sell beef to Japan.

This bipartisan groop suggested a combination of spending cuts, tax increases, a one year freeze on Social Security, Medicare, and federal retirement benefits which could git that Deffysit under $100 billion in 1983. Otherwise deffysits will continue to grow and "devour virtually every penny of household savings and would divert capital from productive investment at a record rate." These men have been there and when they come up with a concensus of this kind it deserves attention from one & all.

Menawhile Reagan has been gittin' some straight tawk from some of th' more experienced fellers in th' financial community. A groop of bankers representin' th' American Bankers Assn., headed by its president Llewellyn Jenkins, met with Reagan and told him that a proggrim to reduce th' deffysits that was believeable, was th' answer and would pull interest rates down by at least four percentage points.

There is no doubt anymore that interest rates are crucial to gittin' th' Economic Wagon rolling agin. It has surely replaced Inflation as th' matter of most concern. Fears of revived Inflation have caused bankers to install penalty rates on loans, jist in case th' Fed weakens and th' balloon starts up agin.

In an interview with U.S. News & World Report, Walter B. Wriston, head of Citibank opined that big bankruptcies were not necessarily all that bad and they reflect incompetence in high officials of some of the huge corporations and that when they happen and th' shakeout comes it often makes thangs healthier in th' end. Not to worry, he says.

Wriston pointed out that firms with cash can make more money in jumbo certificates of deposit than they could hope to make with investments in plants and expansion and until th' tide turns on high money rates th' risk capital is apt to stay in safe havens. Short term borrowings are also a hedge agin inflation and most wise operators are stayin' away from long term debt so as not to git tied up long term at current rates. He predicted a prime of around 12% later this year and a dip of two or three points in short term rates could be in th' offing.

In other words so long as th' money market flies so high it has more effect on economic developmint than deffysits or Govmint borrowin' to finance th' Debt.

These nostrums add up to some bitter medicine and considerable political hazard in an election year, but point out that someone besides you & me ort to start bitin' th' bullet.

Ever thine,
The Edditar.

P.S.: Unkle Dunk notes where a groop of wimmen have started a fast up in Illinois and claim they aint gonna eat until th' ERA Amendment passes. Dunk says we jist think we have seen some cranky wimmen, wait until they git well into this diet and we'll really see somethin'. Dunk figgers a lot of those congressmen who snuck that $19,000 annual tax break for their selfs onto that black lung bill, may live to regret it next November, it seems th' taxpayers, sick and sore after their annual mid-April tax bath, are reluctant tp fergit this little ploy. — Thassall, Brothers!

Share the Progress Sale
JUNE 8, 1982
at the ranch • HEREFORD, TEXAS

Dear Friends and Customers:

We are pleased once again to be able to offer C Bar females in volume. Therefore, on June 8, 1982, you may Share the Progress of our herd and have the opportunity to purchase young select cows from the very heart of our breeding program.

This is not a dispersion sale. We are selling all of the C Bar cows calved in 1976 and 1977, plus the purchased cows falling in these age groups or older. We are only retaining the first calf heifers and younger. By so doing, we can remain a member of the Hereford fraternity of which we have been a part for 48 years, and can continue, uninterrupted, our annual March production sale. In fact, the bulls being readied for our March 1983 sale are the best we have produced and many of them are out of the cows selling.

As we did with our female sale in the summer of 1979, we will wean and keep the calves born through December 1981, but all calves born after January 1, 1982, will sell with their dams. The purchased cows selling were selected from a few top herds in 1979, the largest group being the entire Charles Hull herd of Line Ones and Montana Dominos.

You will note the influence of several nationally-known sires used in our program through A.I. We feel that the opportunity to purchase the service of these sires from proven, dependable C Bar females is unique. Also, we feel that our own battery of young sires offer great potential through these cows to you, the buyer. Never have we had a group of herd bulls consistently doing a better job of siring the right kind.

Our breeding program for the forseeable future will continue to emphasize the service of C Bar Big Arthur, WE L1 Domino E43, BR JC Advance 9132, HSR Advance Victor 2763, C Bar Advance A482, and one other sire we are in the process of acquiring as this is being published.

We look forward to seeing you sale day, and if we can be of assistance concerning information on sale cattle or other arrangements, please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,
Colley and Jim

Western Heritage Sale Tops $3.4 Million

Houston — Prices for Quarter Horses and bronze sculpture hit record highs as the 1982 Western Heritage Sale topped the $3 million mark May 14-15 at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel.

Total sales of $3,461,000 were recorded during the seventh annual event, the foremost sale and auction of art, cattle, and horses in the nation. As in past years, fine art of the American West set the pace at $2,117,800, including a new world record of $50,000 for a Western-motif bronze sold at auction by a living artist. Event history also was made by the overall Quarter Horse tally of $1,033,500, top individual price of $150,000 for a mare, and average per animal of $41,048. The total for Santa Gertrudis cattle came to $309,800, for an average of $11,915 per consignment.

A by-invitation-only crowd of 1,200 prominent guests attended the unique gala sponsored by former Texas governor John B. Connally, Dallas land developer Joe Marchman, and Houston businessman and civic leader Louis Pearce Jr.

Bids went into six figures for art as buyers from around the world vied for a select collection of oils, watercolors, and sculptures. Top price of $140,000 was brought by the oil "Walking Coyote and the Buffalo Orphans," painted by Tom Lovell of Santa Fe, New Mexico and purchased by Steve Langham of Houston. Tucson, Arizona artist Howard Terpning came in a close second with his oil, "Coffee Coolers Meet the Hostiles," which was purchased for $130,000 by L. D. Brinkman of Kerrville, Texas.

The record-setting bronze, "End of a Long Day," was created by Simonton, Texas sculptor Jim Reno and bought by B. F. Phillips of Frisco, Texas.

The total figure for art includes $1,117,800 for the 27 select works sold at auction on May 15 and another $1 million for the more than 150 works offered at fixed prices during the wall-hung art sale on May 14.

Top-selling horse in the Sale was Gwyn Tari, a two-year-old mare consigned by Pearce Ranches of Houston and purchased for the new event record of $150.000 by Crawford Farms of Carrizo Springs. The previous record of $130,000 was set at last year's event. Second highest price, $100,000, was paid by Mae West Syndicate of Houston for the mare Gajes Mae West from Welch Ranches at Merkel, Texas.

Santa Gertrudis sales were led by a bull from Cosgrove Ranches of Coalgate, Oklahoma, which brought $87,000 from J&S Fullen Farms of Ripley, Tennessee. A cow with two calves at side, consigned by Double TT Ranch of Scurry, Texas, brought the second highest price at $24,500 from Silverbrook Farms of Middlebrook, Virginia.

The three sponsors already are planning the 1983 Western Heritage Sale, which will be May 6-7 at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel. Meetings are set for July in Santa Fe, New Mexico, to select next year's art, cattle, and horse consignors.

Pinzgauers Field Day May 22 At Canton Draws Crowd Of 200

Canton, Texas — About 200 persons attended the Southwest Pinzgauer Association's Field Day May 22 at the Van Zandt County Fairgrounds here, at which various breeders had about 40 head of cattle on display.

Interesting talks were given by Horace McQueen on selling cattle; Ronnie Rouquette with the Texas Extension Service at Overton talked on forages and how to raise heavy-weaning calves and marketing; Dr. Dan Scott of Murchison talked on crossbreeding and hybrid vigor; Tommy Schwertner of LaRue's Cattle Service at Georgetown, talked on and demonstrated fitting show cattle; and W. J. Sparks III of victoria gave a walking tour and talked on the different bloodlines and what could be expected from different bulls in the Pinzgauer breed. Sparks had five of his bulls in the display including his Kanalta bull imported from Canada.

Doyle Dove from Canton bught a bull that John White of Hurst had on display and for sale at the field day.

Terry Morin of Jefferson had some Pinzbrau cattle, crosses of Pinzgauer and Brahman, on display.

Dick Kellett and Wayne Jones of Fort Worth had their embryo donor imported fullblood cow, "Lone Star Miss" on display. Jay Phillips from Will Point also had a cow on display.

Matt Free of Lindale organized the field day, and Marie Hooper of tyler was in charge of a covored dish dinner provided by wives of Southwest Pinsgauer Association members attending.

Bob Sullivan of College Station, new president of the association, said the field day was highly successful, and attracted many persons who do not own Pinzgauers, but are becomming interested in the breed.

Free will enable the association to offer the services of getting buyers and sellers together, organize field days and sales and assist individuals in their Pinzgauer breeding programs, Sullivan said.

Free will begin his new duties with the association about July 1.

The Southwest Pinzgauer Association includes Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Sullivan Named SW Pinzgauer Head

Fort Worth — Bob Sullivan, owner of Lazy Bee Farms at College Station, was elected president of the Southwest Pinzgauer Association in its annual membership meeting held April 25 at the Green Oaks Inn in Fort Worth the day following Louise and James Jones' Rocky Ridge Ranch Pinzgauer Field Day near here.

Terry Morin of Jefferson was elected vice president, and Susan Graham of Arlington was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Newly elected directors include Moren; Ray Eller of Burleson; Jerry Dunn of Bradford, Ark.; Marie Hooper of Tyler and John White of Hurst.

Projects to be developed for the coming year include the Southwest Pinzgauer Association regional show to be held Sept. 27-29 at the East Texas Fair in Tyler; consideration of hiring a full-time field man for the region; and a show circuit to include the East Texas Fair, Texas State Fair at Dallas, the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth; and the National Western Livestock Show in Denver.

Additional Screwworm Cases Are Reported

from Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission:

Livestock producers in that area should delay, if at all possible, dehorning, branding, or castrating animals. "This is a precautionary measure to prevent the possibility of any undetected screwworms from finding a place on which to lay eggs. Screwworms lay their eggs on open wounds," he explained. If surgery is necessary, treat the wound.

Three confirmed screwworm cases were reported this week within a four-mile area, about 35 miles north of Mission along the Hidalgo-Starr county line. These are the first cases reported in Texas this year.

"Livestock producers within 100 miles of the Mexico-Texas border are urged to check their animals for possible screwworm infestations, and submit suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission. Special kits are available for this purpose and may be obtained from TAHC area offices or from county agents," Dr. Holcombe said.
